"Time for morning tea," said the teacher. Ella went outside.
Some girls were skipping. Some girls played tip. Some girls hung on the bars. Ella did not want to skip, play tip, or hang.
Some boys played by the trees. Ella went over.
"We are going to the moon," said Matt. "10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 blast off!" He ran around the tree.
"We are on the moon," said Matt. "I see aliens!" shouted Lee.

“Follow them,” said Matt. “We can bring one back to Earth.”
“Can I play with you?” said Ella. “I love space.”
The boys looked at Ella. Ella looked at the boys.
“No,” said Matt. “No girls can play with us.” “Why not?” said Ella. “Only men go to the moon,” said Lee.
“But girls go to space, too,” said Ella. “Come to my house and see my space pictures. I have a lot of space rocks and rocket ships, too.”
“Lee and I will think about it,” said Matt.
Ella sat on a swing. She wanted to swing up to the moon. Higher and higher she went. “Hello,” said Matt. Ella stopped swinging. “You can play with us now,” said Matt.

"You will do a good job in space," said Lee. "I will get the alien," said Ella. She ran.
"Here is your alien," said Ella.
