"I love snow cones," said Penguin.
"I will open a shop."
He had fish snow cones.
He had prawn snow cones.
And he had white snow cones.
Penguins came from all over to try his snow cones.
One day it was too hot.
The snow started to melt.
"Oh, no!" said Penguin.
"How can I make snow cones?"

Penguins came to his shop.
"I have no snow cones," said Penguin.
He put up a sign.
The penguins did not go.
"We can help you," they said.
"But I can't make snow cones. There is no snow," said Penguin.
The snow cone shop was now water.
The water mixed with the cans of fish and cans of prawns.
"This smells good," said a penguin.
She took a sip of the fish and prawn water.
"Very good," she said.
Penguin took a sip.
"I love it!" said Penguin.
"I can make more. I will call it Fish and Prawn Juice."
Penguins came from all over to try the juice.
It was the best Fish and Prawn Juice in the land!
